BUTLER

Designed by Søren Ravn Christensen

The Butler lampshade is made from mouth-blown opal glass and with a shape that can be interpreted in many different ways, Butler is a tribute to the French novel - Le Petit Prince. Its milky white look and diverting shape will add a soft yet bold expression to the interior while lighting up the surrounding room in a stylish and cosy manner.

Pair Butler with our Santé table lighting stand to create the ideal lamp for your desk or your bedside table or hang it upside down in one of the UMAGE cord sets to unlock a new interpretable shape and create an entirely new expression. You can also combine it with one of our floor lighting stands and let it light up a corner of your home. With the Butler lampshade, only your imagination is the limit.

Please note that with all handmade products, minor imperfections can appear. The beautiful irregularities make each piece unique and are a natural consequence of handmade designs
