Product description:

A center point of free floating solid oak elements holds the round table and creates a contradiction of lightness and a substantially dense round table. The free space of the three legs adds to the lightness and special visual complexity of the table. The three legs make it possible to sit around the table without anyone getting into a conflict with their legs. The table is made to fit all desires – hospitality, office or private use.

Designer's thoughts:

"The aim was to create an interesting shadow effect where three identical legs meet each other. The three legs stand very close together and shape the characteristic construction of the table." - Herman Studio
